

COLOURED PALATES

A Meditative
Tasting Experience
Through Silence
And Watercolours

---

With Devika Sundar
And Samyukta Kartik

July 14th 2019

12.00 PM - 2.00 PM

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This Sunday afternoon, eat, experience, and express amidst the quiet and trees of our beautiful terrace art studio. Silently savour a unique 5 course (vegan) tasting menu, specially curated by Samyukta Kartik - guided within an exploratory and sensory watercolour workshop with Devika Sundar.

Through the course of the afternoon, we learn to dabble, create and play with watercolour textures, washes, hues and moods - experiencing and responding through the different senses of taste, smell, sight, sound, and touch.

We hope to see you over a flavourful and therapeutic afternoon on the 14th of this month.

ABOUT YOUR HOSTS

Samyukta Kartik is a Vegan Culinary and Visual Artist, trained under the Matthew Kenney Culinary Academy, led by one of America's leading raw chefs, Matthew Kenney. Samyukta creates meaningful experiences through healthy, nourishing food, coupled with design - aiming to share and constantly educate, not only about the vast creative scope of plant foods, but also about its inextricable connection to animal welfare, health & wellness, and the environment.

Devika Sundar is a Contemporary Artist based in Bangalore. Her practice shifts across different media, combining elements of collage, painting, and printmaking with photography, and installation. Her work explores collective themes of invisibility, illness, memory and impermanence within personal and shared human experience. Devika has exhibited in solo shows at Gallery Sumukha and Alliance Francaise, Bangalore and has presented her work as a keynote speaker at MYOPAIN 2018.
